ABOUT

JENIFER CALCAMUGGI

Meet Jenifer Calcamuggi, a powerhouse in global executive learning and development with an impressive career spanning over 25 years in education. Armed with dual specialization master's degrees in Educational Curriculum and Leadership, Jenifer's journey started in the classroom and evolved into the dynamic realm of corporate education, where she quickly became a trailblazer.

Always at the forefront of educational innovation, Jenifer is not just a leader; she is a guiding force for individuals navigating career transitions. As a contributing author for the Association for Talent Development (ATD), she penned a leadership chapter in the groundbreaking "Teacher To Trainers" book, a game-changer for educators venturing into the corporate world. Her work has empowered teachers to explore new horizons and unleash their full potential. Jenifer isn't just a writer; she is a sought-after authority in the field. Invited to share her expertise on various podcasts and speaking engagements, her audience ranges from CEOs seeking leadership insights to eager collegiate students shaping their career paths. Her exceptional communication skills and deep knowledge connect with diverse audiences, leaving a lasting impact.

As the former Head of Learning for Fortune 500 giants such as Office Depot and Shake Shack, she led international teams, designed learning divisions, and excelled in coaching, competency development, and strategic planning. Her commitment to advancing women in the workplace is evident through her creation and leadership of Women's events, promoting gender equality in the corporate world.

Driven by her passion for learning and development, Jenifer founded Arrow & Co., a full-service Learning Agency. Her mission? To help leaders and companies unlock their full potential, find their paths, and achieve personal and professional goals. In the ever-evolving landscape of executive education, Arrow & Co. stands as a beacon of guidance and growth.

Beyond her professional feats, Jenifer is a fervent advocate for Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), embodying her commitment to a safer world. As a dedicated mother of three, living in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, she seamlessly balances career and family, showcasing her unwavering commitment to lifelong learning and holistic success.
